HJ-SG Solar Container provides reliable off-grid power for remote telecom base stations with solar, battery storage and backup diesel in one plug-and-play solution.

For the micro base station, all-Pad power supply mode is used, featuring full high efficiency, full self-cooling and smooth upgrade for rapid deployment and site construction & operation costs ...

In short, you can indeed run power to a container - either by extending a line from the grid or by turning the container itself into a mini power station using solar panels.
